Larry R. Faulkner, MD, to step down as ABPN President and CEO on December 31, 2022

November 1, 2021 – The ABPN Board of Directors announced today that President and CEO Larry R. Faulkner, MD, has decided to step out of his role in December 2022.

Dr. Faulkner has served as the ABPN's President and CEO since 2006.

“Larry Faulkner has been an inspirational and visionary leader who is highly respected by the field and his contributions are immeasurable. Under his leadership the ABPN has upheld its important mission, improved its certification and continuing certification programs, developed innovative education and research grants, convened crucial issues forums, and constructed a new headquarters in a state-of-the-art building. While these will be big shoes to fill, the Board is looking for the next CEO/President who would have the same foresight, thoughtfulness and exemplary leadership like Larry Faulkner,” said Paramjit Joshi, MD, and J. Clay Goodman, MD, Chair and Vice Chair of the Board of Directors.

In the months to come, the Board will conduct a nationwide search for his successor. The ABPN has retained Isaacson, Miller, a national executive search firm, to assist in this search. Inquiries, nominations, referrals, and applications should be sent in confidence to Isaacson, Miller.
